B Level Classes Are Here!

B level classes are now available. See the rule book for details, but here are a couple of key things to note when sending in your entry form:

1. You MUST check either A or B (not both) on the entry form.
2. If you enter your dog in B classes you MUST enter him or her in the same level class for the entire event.
3. If you earn a title in an A level class at an event you can move up to the next level A class or laterally to the same level B class. You cannot move down to a lower-level B class at an event.
4. For those competing in the Master class, once you have earned your RATM title you MUST enter trials in B classes. You can enter any level of B class but must stay at that level for the entire event. All RATCH and above titles are earned in B classes.

Team!

Team will be offered on Monday, time permitting. This is a non-titling, for-exhibition-only class. Team is a fun game involving two dogs hunting in the same ring that is played at the Barn Hunt National. All proceeds from Team will be added to a fund we have set aside to benefit rat and dog charities, or to help Barn Hunt people who find themselves in need due to sudden veterinary or weather issues, or to other worthy causes.

The rules for Team and any additional details will be described at the event and in your confirmation email.
